Shore To Door.

Amity Fish Company are a multi-award-winning, family-run Scottish Seafood supplier. Led by former Skipper Jimmy Buchan, star of the BAFTA-winning BBC documentary series, Trawlermen, we source and supply world-class Scottish seafood using our 50 years' experience in the seafood industry at sea and ashore.

We source. We Prepare. We Deliver.

Our location at the heart of Peterhead Harbour, Europe's largest white fishing port, perfectly positions us to work with a wide range of producers, fishermen and creelmen to source you the best available catch. We pride ourselves on sourcing, prepping and delivering high quality, Scottish produce that is fully traceable and responsibly sourced.

Sustainability.

At Amity Fish Company, we are not only concerned with quality – but also sustainability. We are fiercely proud of the work we do to protect our waters for future generations to enjoy. In recent years, we have been proud seafood ambassadors at COP26 and received a visit from King Charles III for our commitment to reducing our impact on the planet.

Amity Fish Company is a proud MSC-approved supplier, keeping the chain of custody from sea to plate. Already supplying the offshore sector with sustainably sourced seafood, we are passionate advocates of the responsible fishing scheme, which is an industry approved standard that vessels need to attain.

Distribution.

Through decades of experience, we have refined and perfected our packing and logistics to ensure your catch will arrive with you in peak condition. You can trust that we know how to deliver, wherever you are in the world.

"50 Years of experience in every, single bite."

In 1976, Jimmy left school to begin a life at sea. Almost 50 years later (30 spent as Skipper of his own crew), his feet are firmly back on the shore as founder of Amity Fish Company. Nowadays, Jimmy uses his wealth of experience and contacts to ensure they best available catch, every time.
